

Author Langdon Cook

Langdon Cook is the author of "Fat of the Land: Adventures of a 21st Century Forager." He was a senior book editor at Amazon.com before leaving the corporate world in 2004 to live in a cabin off the grid with his family. Now a freelance writer and blogger, Cook has written for Gray's Sporting Journal, Outside, Fly Fisherman, The Stranger, Seattle Metropolitan, Northwest Palate, and numerous other publications. He's also been profiled in Bon Appétit, WSJ magazine, and Serious Eats. Cook is a graduate of the University of Washington's MFA program and a recipient of PEN Northwest's Margery Boyden Wilderness Writing Residency. He lives in Seattle, WA, and blogs at <http://fat-of-the-land.blogspot.com>.
